

Hi [Enter Co-worker or industry peers name here],

I hope you are doing well today! Just wanted to share that I recently started virtually connecting with students through Pathful Connect to provide career exposure and industry insights, and I am really enjoying how easy it is!

I know you care about making an impact and prioritize volunteering your time for a good cause, so I highly recommend this medium as a way to inspire and mentor students easily. You can connect to K-12 classrooms all over the country from your work space and there is no obligation if they send you a request for your time.

If you are interested, it's really easy to sign up- just click on this link and select that you are part of a company or organization. Then complete your profile and you will be all set to volunteer from the comfort of your desk!

Happy Connecting!

Sincerely,
